

Pittsburgh Friends Meeting provides support to these organizations through donations and membership dues.

American Friends Service Committee <http://www.afsc.org>

AFSC is a practical expression of the faith of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). Committed to the principles of nonviolence and justice, it seeks in its work and witness to draw on the transforming power of love, human and divine.

Bolivian Quaker Education Fund <http://bqef.org>

BQEF has programs to support many young Quakers, financially and otherwise, who are pursuing higher education. Schooling for indigenous Bolivians was systematically suppressed until fairly recently in Bolivia, which has the third largest Quaker population in the world.

Casa San Jose <http://casasanjose.org>

Casa San Jose is a community resource center that advocates for and empowers Latinos by promoting integration and self-sufficiency, in which immigrants and other newcomers are treated with dignity, respect, and kindness feeling free to preserve and celebrate their unique cultures while adapting to their new lives in and around Pittsburgh.

Center on Conscience & War <http://www.centeronconscience.org/>

CCW works to defend and extend the rights of conscientious objectors. The Center is committed to supporting all those who question participation in war, whether they are U.S. citizens, permanent residents, documented or undocumented immigrants, or citizens in other countries.

Earlham School of Religion <http://esr.earlham.edu/>

Earlham School of Religion is a Christian graduate theological school in the Quaker tradition. ESR prepares women and men for leadership that empowers and for ministry that serves. This mission grows out of our Christian belief that God calls everyone to ministry. Using a transformative model of education, ESR encourages students to explore the intellectual, spiritual, and practical dimensions of their calls to ministry.

East End Cooperative Ministry <http://www.eecm.org/>

EECM is an interfaith coalition of 47 congregations, parishes, and institutions united to serve human needs of Pittsburgh's East End residents. EECM has been serving the frail, the homebound elderly, the hungry, the homeless, and children and youth for over 50 years.

Friends Committee on National Legislation <http://www.fcnl.org/index.htm>

A Quaker lobby in the public interest, FCNL is the oldest registered ecumenical lobby and the largest peace lobby in Washington, DC. FCNL staff and volunteers work with a nationwide network of tens of thousands of people from many different races, religions, and cultures to advocate for social and economic justice, peace, and good government.

Friends General Conference <http://www.fgcquaker.org/>

FGC provides resources and opportunities that educate and invite members and attenders to experience, individually and corporately, God's living presence, and to discern and follow God's leadings. FGC reaches out to seekers and to other religious bodies.

Friends Journal <http://www.friendsjournal.org/>

Friends Journal serves the Quaker community and the wider community of spiritual seekers through the publication of articles, poetry, letters, art, and news that convey the contemporary experience of Friends. There are links to Find Quakers and the popular QuakerSpeak videos.

Friends World Committee for Consultation <https://fwccamericas.org/>

FWCC is an international Friends organization which works with all of the Yearly Meetings of Quakers worldwide. FWCC facilitates loving understanding of diversities among Friends while working to discover common spiritual ground and to facilitate full expression of Friends' testimonies in the world.

Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank <http://www.pittsburghfoodbank.org/>

Donors, volunteers, and partners are part of the solution to eliminate food insecurity and the worry that goes with it, while working to ensure that everyone in our community has enough to eat.

Just Harvest <http://www.justharvest.org/>

Just Harvest addresses hunger in Allegheny County at its root – economic injustice – through a focus on public policy, food access, and community power.

Lake Erie Yearly Meeting <http://leym.org/>

The larger body to which Pittsburgh Friends Meeting belongs. We support LEYM through annual dues based on our membership.

Olney Friends School <http://www.olneyfriends.org/>

Olney Friends School is a co-educational college preparatory Quaker boarding school, located in Barnesville, Ohio, whose mission is to challenge students to grow, celebrate intellectual rigor, provoke questions of conscience, and to nurture skills for living in community.

Pendle Hill <http://www.pendlehill.org/>

At Pendle Hill, education is envisioned as the transforming of people and society. Pendle Hill's programs offer the resources and time for integrated spiritual, intellectual, and personal learning. It was founded in 1930 by members of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) and is open to people of all faiths.

Pittsburgh Interfaith Impact Network <http://piin.org/>

PIIN is a grassroots lobbying group formed through Pittsburgh's churches. PIIN works on school, transportation, taxation, and other issues. We support PIIN through an annual membership donation and the purchase of an ad in their annual fundraiser program.

Quaker Earthcare Witness <http://www.quakerearthcare.org/>

Quaker Earthcare Witness is a spiritually-centered movement of Quakers and like-minded people seeking ways to integrate concern for the environment with Friends' long-standing testimonies of simplicity, peace, and equality.

Quaker House of Fayetteville <http://quakerhouse.org/index.php>

Quaker House has been working for peace and GI rights since 1969 by addressing issues such as truth in recruiting and explaining enlistment documents to individuals and parents.

QUNO <http://www.quno.org/>

The Quaker United Nations Office, located in Geneva and New York, represents Quakers through Friends World Committee for Consultation (FWCC).

Right Sharing of World Resources <http://rswr.org/>

RSWR partners with women in Kenya, India, and Sierra Leone in community transformation through small business grants to women.

Summit Against Racism

The Pittsburgh Racial Justice Summit is an annual conference dedicated to providing resources and spaces for community dialogues, sharing of strategies and experiences of organizing for racial justice, healing from racial trauma, and connections to social support services. The Summit was first held in 1996.

Thomas Merton Center <http://www.thomasmertoncenter.org/>

The Thomas Merton Center is comprised of people from diverse philosophies and faiths who find common ground in the nonviolent struggle to bring about a more peaceful and just world. TMC works to raise the moral questions involved in the issues of war, poverty, racism, and oppression.

